SMART Notebook™ Training (Intermediate)

This intermediate course builds on the skills you gained in SMART Notebook Training (Introductory). Learn how to use SMART Notebook collaborative learning software strategically to build more attractive, clear, organized lessons. During this session, you'll build a SMART Notebook lesson to use in your classroom or improve one that you bring with you.

In this course you'll learn how to:

- Improve the structure and organization of your SMART Notebook lessons so they can be used more effectively on the SMART Board® interactive whiteboard
- Add style to your lessons, enhancing their appearance and clarity
- Build interactive lesson activities more effectively and efficiently
- Integrate rich media such as sound, animation and the Internet
- Enhance the way you present lessons on an interactive whiteboard

Who should attend?

K–12 educators and higher education instructors whose classrooms are equipped with SMART Board interactive whiteboards and who have experience using SMART Notebook software to create lessons.

NOTE: Confident use of SMART Notebook software is required for this session. You must complete SMART Notebook Training (Introductory) to attend.

What do I need?

- You must have a computer with the most recent version of SMART Notebook software installed and the ability to connect to the Internet
- You must have a user name and password for the SMART Learning Space. Registration is free.
- To make the most of your session, bring teaching materials with you to use in lesson creation, and download the learner files to your desktop before attending
- There may be additional requirements for participants taking this course in a distance education format
