Known issues

- If you play an Adobe Flash Player compatible file in a document, and then switch to the My Binder tab and back to the document while the file is playing, the playback buttons stop working.
- You're unable to move pages from one document to another using drag and drop. You must first drag the page to either the desktop or the Finder and then back into the application.
- After making a recording using the Page Recorder, you must switch tabs before you can play the recording back.
- If you open SMART Notebook SE and delete a file before the preview has completely rendered, an error message may appear when you close the software.
- If you click the My Home or My Binder tab, and then rapidly move the pointer over multiple filter types, a lag causes the filter being highlighted to be different than the filter that the pointer is hovering over.
- The handwriting recognition feature only works if you have SMART product drivers installed on your computer.
- If you insert two SMART Notebook SE bracelets on the same computer, or use a bracelet on a computer that already has SMART Notebook SE installed, two instances of the software will launch. This scenario may have unexpected results and isn't recommended.
